Sales Director

“Although owning your own plane is still a luxury and clients need to show that they are affluent enough, it is also a unique opportunity to make yourself more comfortable and your travel time more efficient. This is why private jet ownership is coming increasingly to the fore in the Czech Republic and Slovakia.”

Expertise is crucial in aviation. We work with experienced experts to offer our clients professional services and advice. This also ensures that we protect the capital you have invested. That's why we're second to none when it comes to financing private planes and helicopters.

We're part of the SG Group, which has been financing aircraft for over 50 years. No one else in the Czech Republic and Slovakia can tap into comparable experience. We mainly specialise in the financing of business jets, turboprop planes for private purposes or commercial operations, and helicopters. We work with major aircraft vendors. We will tailor a project specific to your requirements and provide tax and legal advice.

5 reasons to rely on us

1. We have unique international know-how.
2. We have financed dozens of planes and helicopters in the Czech Republic and Slovakia since 2005.
3. We guarantee discretion.
4. We also organise technical audits and the necessary certificates.
5. We take care of the insurance.
